

Property Boost

Property Boost email campaigns allow you to showcase your property to an engaged audience of serious property seekers searching in the catchment area. This valuable audience has registered to receive property alerts from us when new properties in their desired location come onto the portal.

Features

- Your Property Boost email campaign is sent to a highly targeted audience of customers who've signed up to be alerted about new properties in their specified area
- Your advert will drive traffic to the property or development, generating leads
- You don't have to provide any additional information meaning campaigns are hassle free to set up and quick to dispatch

How does it work?

The property image and description will be pulled through from your listing. The email will link directly to the property or development.
